Coast Route Will Go to SM County

FREEWAY WILL BE BUILT BY STATE

The State Highway commission met in Daly City council chambers Monday at a public hearing and heard the proposed plan for the abandonment of Coast Highway No. 56 and the construction of a new state highway, to follow closely the Skyline boulevard route.

Costly to Maintain

B. W. Booker, assistant state highway engineer for the district, pointed out that the Coast highway, connecting Edgemar and Alemany extension, is too much of a burden to maintain. He explained that in recent years the route has been closed a total of 229 days and has had to have three major reconstruction jobs.

At the last period when the road went out, it was closed for four months, he said.

Under tentative plans, the Coast route will be abandoned by the state and turned over to the county, while a new route estimated to cost $3,000,000 will be built further inland.

County officials present, Alvin

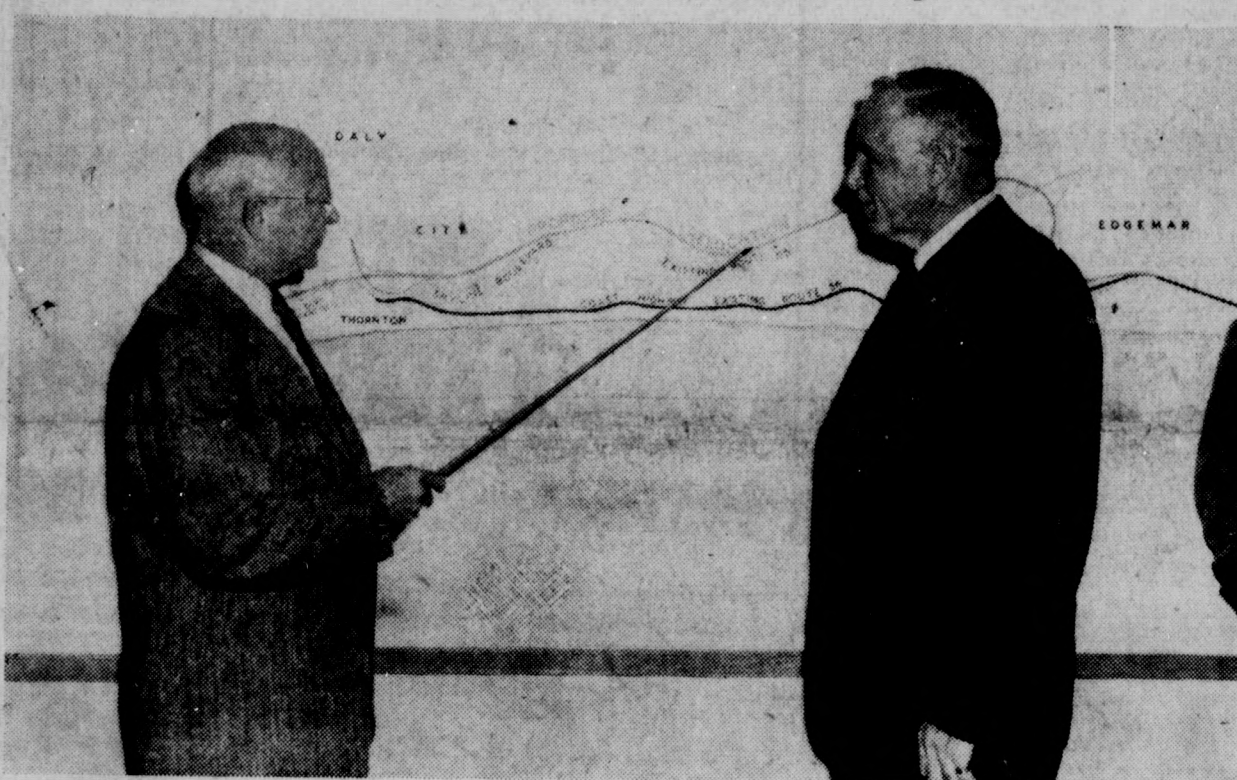

Hatch, Tom Hickey, supervisors, and Tom Callan, supervisor elect, expressed their views on the plan. Hatch and Hickey expressed favor with the plan and added that the county would be able to handle maintenance of the coast route on its extreme ends for the convenience of home owners in those sectors. However, they doubted whether the county would be able to keep the entire road open the year round.

Callan Opposes

Callan opposed the measure, claiming the inland route would be too foggy and suggested that the new freeway should cut over to

Close-up View of Proposed Relocation of Skyline Boulevard

THIS IS HOW it will look, explains B. W. Booker, assistant state highway engineer for the district, while Chester Warlow, chairman of the state highway commission, looks on at Monday's public hearing here on the realignment of Skyline boulevard. As can be seen on chart, new freeway will follow closely the Skyline route, but sharp curves will be done away with. Coast Highway No. 56 will eventually be abandoned to the county.

HEARING IS SET MONDAY ON TAXI CAB APPLICATION

Whether another taxi cab company should be allowed in Daly City will be the topic Monday evening at a public hearing to be held at the regular council meeting at 8 p.m.

The application of Ray Louis Spino and George Allen Korber, Westlake Cab company, for operation of their service here will be heard. Their application is on file in the office of the city clerk at present.

The last application for operation of another cab company here was refused after the holding of a

Chamber of Commerce Gets New Decal

DALY CITY'S revived Chamber of Commerce is going ahead rapidly. A few of the charter members are shown here inspecting the decal recently created for the chamber. The insignia will be posted in the windows of those belonging to the organization. Pictured here are

Daly City Chamber Membership Hits 80

CHAIRMAN REPORTS INTEREST IS HIGH

Membership of the local Chamber of Commerce has swelled to more than eighty, it was announced by the membership committee at last week's luncheon, held at the Lake Merced Golf and Country club.

The membership group reported that their campaign is still in the early stages but pointed out that there appears to be a great deal of interest and recognition of the need for the chamber here.

Robert Hunter, chairman of the membership committee, said that all members who join prior to Jan. 1, 1953, will be classified as charter members.

More than 60 people were in attendance at last week's meeting. The luncheon was devoted to a round table discussion of the needs and purpose of a local chamber. Keynote of the discussion was struck by William Sweeney, Jr., who noted that the first job of the Daly City Chamber of Commerce is to obtain a representative membership, not only as to area, but as to occupation of members also.

The next meeting of the chamber was set for Dec. 4, at twelve noon, at the Lake Merced Golf and Country club. Everyone interested in building a greater Daly City is invited to attend, Hunter said.

CITY TO PURCHASE 10-ACRE WESTLAKE PARK SITE SOON

The city of Daly City will begin negotiations in the near future for acquisition of a 10-acre site east of Lake Merced boulevard for use as a city park.

At a meeting of city officials Monday night, City Administrator Dan Andersen was given the go-ahead to contact the Henry Doelger company for purchasing of the park site.

The city began surveying yesterday to determine which of the 10 acres would be suitable for the park.

Cost per acre will be $2000, according to Andersen.

SEX OFFENDER IS FINED, ORDERED OUT OF CALIFORNIA

Carroll Breedon, 42, of 508 Midway, was given two years' suspended sentence, fined $250 and given two months to get out of the state after being found guilty of a sex offense in Judge Thomas Bocci's Justice court last Thursday.

NO TRAFFIC DEATHS HERE AS YET

Wet roads, poor visibility and heavy traffic prevail again with the approach of winter, but as yet Daly City has had no deaths from traffic accidents.

With only a little more than a month to go Daly City has a clean slate, as compared with other years when the average number of deaths has been one or more. Daly City will receive a certificate from the National Safety Council if it finishes the year without a traffic death.

There have also been few serious injuries up to this time. But Police Chief Roland Petrochi says the heavy traffic which occurs between 5:30 and 6 p.m. may account for extra mishaps, because of early darkness.

Accidents to date in Daly City stand as follows:

Vehicle accident injuries	56
Pedestrian injuries	10
Auto-auto accidents	181
Property accidents	26
Bicycle accidents	3
Total	276

Trick Works Three Times; Then Fails

Knowles Will Be Closed for Parking

On recommendation of the police commission, the north side of Knowles avenue from Mission to Niantic will be closed to parking until the street can be widened.

Curbs will be painted red and no parking signs installed sometime next week.

Cars parked on Knowles will be towed off at the expense of the owner.

City Administrator Dan Andersen said that the street would be widened eight feet, bringing the width to 38 feet, as soon as the rains ceased, sometime next spring.

Preliminary Work Begins on Water, Fire Bond Projects

City officials decided Monday night to seek a site at approximately 460 feet elevation for establishment of a new reservoir in Westlake, made possible by passage of the recent $390,000 water bond.

Reason for placing the structure at that height, according to Dan Andersen, city administrator, is to make possible the transfer of water from the proposed reservoir to the No. 3 reservoir, 466 feet, in event the latter becomes "overloaded." The No. 3 tank handles the Westlake area and the southwest portions of Daly City at present.

At the meeting, attended by Andersen, Arthur J. Bodien, superintendent of the water department, Edwin Smith, city engineer, Frank Blum, city attorney, Elmer Kennedy, fire chief, and the city council, it was also decided to put in another booster for moving water from the No. 2 to the No. 1 reservoir.

Fire Chief Kennedy was asked by the group to get actual costs of

LOCAL AMBULANCE DRIVER ESCAPES WITH MINOR INJURIES IN WRECK

Vehicle Demolished; Four Receive Injuries

A Daly City ambulance driver escaped with bruises of the left elbow, shoulder and neck, when his vehicle collided with a light pickup truck at the El Camino Real-Florinda avenue intersection in Burlingame Monday morning.

The crash overturned and demolished the ambulance, knocked out traffic signals and sent four injured to the hospital. The ambulance was driven by Robert Lynch, 45, of 650 San Diego avenue.

Lynch's ambulance, according to Hillsborough police, was headed

A 24-year-old service station attendant's nearly infallible system in the macabre game of Russian roulette went wrong as he fired a .38 calibre bullet through his right temple at 2:14 a.m. this morning (Thursday) and died 31 minutes later in Junipero Serra hospital. The dead youth, Henry Stubo, had been living at the YMCA on the Embarcadero.

Action To Come On Delapidated Mission Buildings

Daly City Planning commission took up the matter of the dilapidated condition of buildings on lower Mission street at their meeting Tuesday and agreed that action should be taken on the matter in the near future.

Commissioners said that many of the rundown buildings are an eyesore and will have to be remodeled and improved or face the possibility of condemnation.

Tentative plans were made to change the meeting date from the second Tuesday of each month to the first Monday, so that items needing council consideration could be dispensed with more rapidly. However, the next meeting will be held Dec. 9, according to the regular schedule.

At the December meeting a public hearing will probably be held on the petition asking annexation of uninhabited territory in the Abbey Homestead and Sullivan and 91st streets vicinity. The matter will be referred first to the council.

SUBMIT NEWS ITEMS EARLY NEXT WEEK

Persons having news items for THE RECORD should submit them not later than Monday evening, in order that they may be included in next week's Thanksgiving edition. The paper will be printed on Wednesday that week, so that proper observance of Thanksgiving can be made by members of the staff.

Stubo, who had been an attendant at Lombardi's Auto Service for the past nine days, was demonstrating to his customer-acquaintances, Henry Oswald, 25, 447 Eddy street, San Francisco, and Ralph Shinazy, 29, of 24 Woodrow street, his ability at Russian roulette—a game in which one shell is inserted in the gun and the cylinder is spun, the gun then being held to the head and fired.

Removes Bullets
Oswald said Stubo went behind the counter at the station, located at 6498 Mission, got the gun and pulled all the bullets out but one. The young attendant was successful three times, Oswald said. Oswald heard three definite clicks, the sound of the trigger striking the empty chamber. Oswald said he then turned around for a second and as he did he heard a shot.

Stubo was lying on the floor in a pool of blood. The slug had entered his right temple and emerged through the top of his head at a small hole about the size of a half-dollar. Stubo's two friends immediately summoned local police and an ambulance was rushed to the scene. When Bruno Conci and Sgt. Les Bastedo arrived Stubo was still living. He was rushed to Junipero Serra hospital and lived about 10 minutes after his arrival there. His death was from loss of blood.

Hospital attendants said it was surprising that he lived as long as he did.

Oswald said Stubo and he had served in the merchant marines together about nine months. Stubo often played Russian roulette aboard ship, Oswald said. Stubo had claimed he knew just how to spin the revolving cylinder so as to miss the one bullet inserted.

Happy-Go-Lucky
Frank Lombardi, Stubo's employer, said that the young man was happy-go-lucky and was an exceptionally good worker. "He got along with everybody—never drank or smoked, either," Lombardi said. Lombardi said he had known the youth for four years, and had employed him at the station two years ago for a period of about six months.

"He had a new car and never seemed to have any troubles," Lombardi added. "Something just went wrong with his timing on the spin of the cylinder."

Stubo is believed to be survived by a 70-year-old aunt in Hayward and his mother in New York. Police have not yet contacted them.

His body was taken to Lasswell's.

Man Beaten, Robbed At Thornton Beach

Walks Barefoot Ten Miles to Daly City

A 41-year-old civilian employee of Oakland army base was found unconscious on a doorstep near Daly City police headquarters at 6:30 Monday morning, after he had been severely beaten and robbed at Thornton beach by three men.

Lee Fowler, 41, 2138 Telegraph avenue, Oakland, had crowded and walked nearly 10 miles in stocking feet from the beach spot to the home of Mrs. Louise Garra, 482 Wellington avenue, near the city hall, and pressed the doorbell just before fainting from pain.

He underwent treatment at Junipero Serra hospital for cuts and bruises and lacerated feet. Hospital authorities there said he would probably be released today. He was at first believed to have suffered concussion.

Mrs. Garra, who called police immediately after an unsuccessful attempt to revive Fowler, said she had just arisen when she heard the bell.

Fowler's blood-soaked feet were lying against the door when she answered. On questioning at the hospital,

Fowler said he had met three young men in a San Francisco Ellis street bar and after several rounds of drinks had agreed to take them to the beach in his automobile.

On arriving at a point between Thornton beach and Playland in San Francisco, one of the three men, described by Fowler as being between 18 and 20 years old, pulled a .32 caliber automatic pistol and ordered Fowler to leave the car.

Fowler said he was then beaten savagely, robbed of $25 in cash and stripped of his shoes. The trio drove off towards Skyline boulevard in Fowler's car.

Coast Route Will Go to S. M. County

Junipero Serra boulevard. That same evening he appeared before the South San Francisco city council asking them to pass a resolution condemning any move by the State Highway commission to close the Coast highway. His argument was that the county would not be financially able to maintain the roadway during winter storms. Callan said he would take his resolution to each city council in the county.

Show Slides
During the Monday hearing slides were shown as evidence of the erosion taking place on the coast route year after year. Booker said that when the highway was built, engineers believed it would stabilize itself after a certain time, but this later proved untrue.

Statistics were given showing that some six to seven thousand vehicles use the coast road when open, while three to four thousand normally use the Skyline route. When the Coast highway is out traffic sometimes reaches as high as ten to eleven thousand vehicles daily on the Skyline route, Booker said. He added that 5,000 cars daily is considered the capacity for a two-lane highway.

The state engineer said that the No. 56 highway is not only washed out from erosion from the sea, but is damaged from slides occurring above it.

Four-lane Freeway
The new route proposed would be a four-lane freeway, eventually six-lane, according to Booker. It would be about two-tenths longer than the Skyline route, but would be located along approximately the same area. The major changes, Booker said, would be easing of the many sharp turns.

Two cloverleafs, one at the intersection with San Pedro road in the south and one at Alenany extension in Daly City, were included in the plan showed by Booker.

Asks Horse Trail
Edward Zwierlein, chairman of the advisory committee of riding and hiking for the division of beaches and parks, asked that a trail be provided on the new highway. Chester Warlow, acting chairman of the state highway commission, said that the state group could not give him any answer, but that the matter would be taken under advisement.

Warlow said that the highway commission would not be able to consider the matter officially for at least another month.

Anthony Gaggero, mayor, and Arthur J. Bodien, superintendent of the water department, spoke at the hearing and expressed their approval of the realignment.

all fire equipment so that sale of the bonds can be held. Plans for the fire department's expansion under the $173,500 fire bond passed recently are nearly complete, Kennedy said.

Andersen pointed out that, in both the fire and water projects, an attempt is being made to obtain exact costs on all work before selling the bonds. Purpose of this is to avoid running short of finances before the projects are complete.

a used car lot at 6801 Mission was dropped from the agenda, there being no further word from the parties concerned. Also dropped was the application of Jennings Construction Co., 1285 Holloway street, San Francisco, for construction of 20 homes. The firm was unable to obtain the land.

Owners of the building at School street and San Bruno were ordered to revamp their building and bring it up to the recommendations submitted by Fire Chief Elmer Kennedy and Building Inspector George Hopman.

The request of William Nadeel to subdivide on property at Whittier and Hanover streets was denied as Nadeel is not owner of the property.

Owner of the structure at 17 Bepler street submitted plans for its modification and notified the commission that a contractor will submit bids on additions to be made to the building. The owner's action is in accordance with request made by the planning commission for alteration of the building.

KIDS AWAITING SANTA'S ARRIVAL

Santa Claus will visit Westlake at 1:30 p.m., Nov. 29, and with his arrival will come a day of merry-making for the youngsters.

Children will be invited to ride as his guests on the two miniature Southern Pacific trains over the more than 800 feet of track.

Part of the trains' route takes it through a tunnel 140 feet long, part of the Henry Doelger Christmas Wonderland animated exhibit. The toyland scene and the train roadbed required more than 24,000 feet of lumber, enough to build two homes.

Construction of the exhibit was being rushed this week so it will be ready for St. Nick's arrival on the 29th.

Santa will get a rousing welcome consisting of a 45-minute all star variety show as part of the pre-Christmas celebration. In addition, there'll be free candy and gifts for all the little ones.

Those who journeyed on the City of Westlake last year will be looking forward to another trip on the train. This year, however, there will also be the Westlake Daylight to bring merriment to all the "travelers." Both trains are built as replicas of the Southern Pacific Los Angeles and Shasta Daylight locomotives.

Bicycle Winners Are Named at Westlake

The five winners in last week's Friday night drawing for bicycles at Westlake were holders of the following numbers: 018127, 046424, 054600, 013063, and 029957.

Drawings will continue the next two Friday nights this month at 7:30 p.m. at the Town and Country Shopping Center in Westlake. All tickets in circulation are still good for future drawings.

WESTLAKE SCHOOL LISTS CLASSROOM ACTIVITIES

Mrs. Lamp's Second Grade Room 5
Presidential hopes ran high last week in Mrs. Lamp's second grade room. While there was considerable interest in the national political picture, the second grade nominated and voted for a new class president and vice-president. Those elected were Carol Kirchner, president, and Marilyn Conillo, vice president.

Since the term of office has been limited by the group to one month, two other pairs of officers have presided over class meetings. Jerome and Jerry Dowd have been presidents with Walter Gulden and Charleen Furrer as vice presidents. The group learns simple parliamentary procedure and making nomination speeches. Even the secret ballot is observed.

Mrs. Dowd's Second Grade Room 6
Mrs. Dowd's second grade class is in the midst of Thanksgiving room decorations.

Sandra Leland with the help of Lee Sterios has made a wonderful Thanksgiving dinner mural. The other children are making Indian headbands and turkeys. Leslie Mertens, Karen Colyear, Tommy Asaro, and Benine Gay Woodruff have made some pictures about this important day.

All the children are trying very hard in their work. James Schumann, Gwynne Worthington, Fay Treber, Bennie Gay Woodruff, Richard Katz and Linda Bushong have had all their spelling words correct so far this term. The class is very proud of them.

Mrs. Lewis' Third Grade A. M. Session
The class is studying about the Indians of the Southwest. They are learning many interesting things about the Pueblo Indians who live in that region. They are also writing letters to children who live on an Indian Reservation in Taos, New Mexico.

Sandy Schoenfeld, Bruce DeBerry, Paul Boudreau, Donald Bosberry, Richard Smith and Ronald Johnston have brought in exciting books, pieces of pottery, wampum and arrow heads which had been made by the Hopi and Zuni tribes.

Mrs. Helen Allen's Third and Fourth Grades, P. M. Session
During National Education Week, observed by Westlake school with an invitation to parents to visit classrooms, the third and fourth grade in Room 7 was visited by the mothers of Robert Johnson, Mary Luckett, Robin Easterbrook, Michael Cheda and Robert Sikora. Many more were expected before the end of the week.

The curriculum was highlighted by a visit from Miss Armatrout, art-coordinator, with a special lesson on the different uses of crayolas. Mr. Huajardo, physical education instructor, taught the class a verified form of kick ball.

The children also brought special interests into the lessons during the week. Mary Luckett shared with the class her collection of authentic Argentine dolls and Alison Benedict contributed a packet of asbestos fibers to learn about.

While the fourth graders write stories and illustrate favorite parts in their readers, the third graders choose to dramatize interesting tales. Lloyd Thompson led the cast in a recent interpretation of a peddler who sold caps. The other children played the parts of the monkeys who mimicked and tormented him. Another play is now being planned.

Pedestrians See Red, Occasionally Green

No life-loving pedestrian has probably ever had to face the terrors that exist for those trying to cross streets at the intersection of San Jose avenue and Mission street.

The hodge-podge of buttons, instructions, lights that flash walk and stop almost as fast as the eye's lens can record the image, cars, trucks, buses, and a liberal distribution of traffic officers frantic with overwork are enough to make even the most brave walker of the public streets cringe.

The idea is, one must push the button (number of times not specified) in order to reach his destination, 50 feet on the other side of the street.

However, this short passage, especially around 2 p.m., can take as long as 10 minutes if one does not throw caution to the winds occasionally and defy the walk-and-stop machine.

If a pedestrian is fortunate enough to have the sign's sanction to walk, it is never for long. In fact, usually about the time the pedestrian reaches the middle of the street, the red dictator glares up at him to halt.

On other occasions the walker is given the green light, only to look up and discover he is being borne down upon by a muni bus making a right hand turn off Mission—a sight that will turn all but the most fool-hardy pedestrian back.

We don't propose to be engineers, in fact we doubt if we would admit we were had we installed the traffic lights in question, but there must be a better way to get body and soul across the street without exposing them to fatal injury on every trip.

All Is Quiet on the Home Front

What with South San Francisco's city council almost at the point of opening armed warfare in the ranks, and San Bruno's city fathers waging a small scale skirmish almost weekly, we wonder at the sweetness and light which prevails at almost every gathering of the Daly City tribunal.

Not that we believe dissension and bickering laudable, but still there seems an incongruous aura of good fellowship that settles on every formal meeting of the city council.

In fact, in at least the last five meetings of the council, there has been unanimous accord on every issue.

Not one councilman has dast to take offense at the verbal offerings of his brethren in government.

Discounting any coincidence that might make one governmental body in unanimity for such a prolonged period of time, we must come to the conclusion that some matters of magnitude are settled, not at the formal meeting, but at predestined gatherings.

This may, in the short-term view, accomplish just as much civic business, but in the long run, the public is denied learning the machinations of government.

We believe that major matters should be discussed openly at the Monday night meetings, even if it means mixing pro and con occasionally. It would give the citizens a little more insight and probably would mean a full-house at the usually vacant council chambers on Monday nights.

Abide by Law, or Change It

Two California law enforcement officials declared flatly last week that all forms of gambling, including lotteries and bingo, should be uniformly banned in the state even when conducted by charitable or church groups or service clubs. Arthur Sherry, chief assistant State Attorney General, and San Mateo County District Attorney Louis Dematteis both made this assertion before a church conference in Sacramento. They decried attempts of "well-meaning people" to get "selective" enforcement of gambling laws. Dematteis said that it was "discouraging and outright shocking" to find that some of the most respected citizens in the community—sometimes city officials themselves—actually fight uniform enforcement of the law. A 10-cent raffle, he pointed out, is just as illegal as a larger raffle. He said he is constantly approached about one annual bazaar or another and told about the good work done with the money raised and then asked if "it would be okay to have a few wheels." Sherry declared that local officials should not pick and choose among illegal gambling operations because this "opens the door to corruption." One instance was cited in which a chief of police was fired because he insisted on blocking illegal gambling against the wishes of a city council. If the people don't want a law enforced they should change it, said Dematteis.

It's Still California Two to One

Last year there were 1180 new factory or plant expansion projects in California involving $539 million. This year that figure will be topped by more than $100 million, or a total of about $650 million. Next year it may go still higher.

In fact, with the population continuing its substantial and steady climb, industry is being hard put to keep up with the ever rising volume of civilian needs. The value of manufactured products in California last year was approximately $6 1/2 million. That was 68 per cent above 1947. Yet industrial expansion continues at a furious pace.

Other statistics of growth show that almost a quarter of a million more people—a 31 per cent increase—were working in California manufacturing last year than in 1947. Sales tax collections have registered a whopping gain and deposits of the California statewide branch banking system which serves several hundred communities have risen by billions. Everywhere you look you find two houses where only one stood before, and everywhere you drive you see 10 cars (so it seems!) for every one car you saw before.

And to think that some people figured California would be going downhill after the World War II boom was over!

Spirit Not Determined by Bank Account

Everybody has something he can be thankful for. Some more, some less. But sometimes those with the least feel more grateful than those with the most. So, the spirit of Thanksgiving is not always determined by the size of the bank account or the kind of car in the garage. Anyway, it shouldn't be.

We could all feel more thankful if our Nation were really at peace, but we should humbly appreciate the fact that even with our international woes we are infinitely better off than many another people. With few exceptions we eat well, are well housed and clothed. We are free to speak, act and worship as our conscience dictates. We need fear no midnight pounding on the door by a secret police. We are governed not by self-appointed, despotic rulers but by those we choose from the people themselves.

Ours is a land magnificently blessed not only with natural wealth but with an abundance of energy, ideas and skills. We have achieved much in the past; the future offers still greater opportunities—both individually and collectively.

We are living in a trying era, but a fascinating one. We enjoy more boons and benefits than the world has ever known. We may have our doubts about what lies ahead on the international scene but placing our faith in the Almighty we shall strive and survive. He hasn't failed us in the past, He won't in the future. Let's be thankful.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

The Record welcomes any letter on any event of public or private interest. These letters are published at no expense to the writer. There are just two requirements: the letters must be signed, and must be within the laws of libel. We hope readers will show enough interest in their city to occasionally "sound off;" for the purpose of this column is to give you, the reader, a chance to express an opinion.

Express Thanks for THE RECORD'S Support of Community Hospital Bond

Dear Mr. Bradshaw:

We are very anxious to have you know how much we appreciate the support you gave in your paper through your news columns, your editorials and your endorsement for the bonds for Community Hospital. The very generous use of space in your paper for this project, we feel, was an extremely important factor in interpreting the need for the hospital to the people of your area and accounts for the high majority by which the bond issue was approved.

On behalf of the citizens committee who undertook the sponsorship of this issue and the Department of Public Health and Welfare, we wish to express by this letter our real appreciation for your help.

Very truly yours,

Mrs. Franzen Elaborates on Chamber Meeting; Says She Was Thrown Out

My dear Editor:

I wish to correct some of the impressions given in the letter by Mr. Joe Ternes, president of the Oakland Jr. Chamber of Commerce. I will state exactly what happened then draw your own conclusions. It is well Mr. Ternes wrote the letter, it gives me an opportunity to show some of the aspects of this scheme, and why it is so successful where only one side is permitted to be aired.

A member of the Health and Welfare Committee of the San Francisco Jr. Chamber of Commerce (who has heard me give my documented facts) told me of the Oakland meeting and threw me the hint to attend. I immediately contacted Mayor Reshell of Oakland, explaining the situation. He suggested I contact Mr. Ternes, said I would find him a fine American, and no doubt willing to cooperate. I contacted Mr. Ternes, stating quite frankly that fluoridation is illegal, unconstitutional, un-American, absolutely subversive—that they certainly had not carefully investigated both sides of this issue or they would have known the truth. (Or do they KNOW the truth?) I asked for an opportunity to present the real facts on the evils of fluoridation to Oakland and East Bay Jr. Chambers of Commerce before they would continue their promotion of fluoridation so they would realize the truth and withdraw their support. Anyone can make a mistake.

Mr. Ternes said he would guarantee me an opportunity to present my side to the proper committee of the Jr. Chamber. In talking with Mr. Ternes Sept. 15, the day of the propaganda meeting, I explained I planned on attending the meeting. Mr. Ternes did not inform me it would be a closed meeting—that I would not be permitted to attend.

That same day, before the meeting, I contacted Mr. Doug Chase, East Bay Jr. Chamber member, and I patiently explained the same thing to him. He said it would be a closed meeting so far as any opportunity for me to speak against fluoridation was concerned, but that I was welcome to come over and sit in and listen. Mr. Franzen and I took him at his word and went to the meeting to sit and listen in.

As soon as I was spotted by Mr. Nick Porozoff, from J. J. Weiner Advertising Co., 149 California St., S. F., (who, I am told, is in charge of the propaganda campaign) he and those who were with him left the room, then returned in a few minutes. Mr. Porozoff came directly to me and said I must leave the meeting—that it was a closed meeting and I would not be permitted to attend.

I graciously explained the situation, but it did no good—he insisted I must leave before the meeting began. Mr. Franzen and I left the meeting.

We were not thrown out bodily, but from my own past experience and the experience of others, it is often unhealthy to oppose the fluoridators.

The following day I contacted Mr. Ternes and relayed to him my experience. I urged him for an opportunity to show those Jr. Chamber members the authentic data I have against fluoridation—before they continued their propaganda campaign. He said I could write him a letter and ask for an opportunity to present the opposition and he would present it to their Executive Board which was meeting Sept. 17, 1952. I wrote the letter but received no reply.

On October 24, I called Mr. Ternes inquiring when I would be heard. We had a heated discussion. He informed me that the Jr. Chamber had covered both sides very carefully and intended to continue their campaign to put over fluoridation. When I again informed him they were engaging in an un-American activity and I pleaded with him for an opportunity to show them the truth so they would discontinue their campaign to betray this nation and their fellowmen.

Mr. Ternes then stated he would do a little checking and call me back. In 15 minutes he did so, stating I would be called Saturday morning, Oct. 25, and given the exact date when I could address their Health and Welfare Committee.

This is three weeks later and as yet I have received no call.

Very truly yours,
Mrs. Hugo Franzen

PLANS IN FULL SWING FOR OLPH BAZAAR TO BE HELD DECEMBER 7th

Ladies in Charge Assure Good Time

The ladies in charge of the children's section of the bazaar this year have been working for months to assure the kiddies of a good time and loads of prizes. There will be three booths devoted just to the children. One will feature a spinning wheel with beautiful prizes; a second booth will entice the youngsters to throw darts to break balloons and get a wonderful gift; and the third booth will contain a large fish pond with real fishing poles to tempt young fishermen to try their luck.

However, the grandest feature of all will be that no kiddie will leave any of the three booths empty-handed. Each child will be sure to win something. There can be no losers at the children's section. Santa Claus himself will be on hand to guarantee this.

Chairman Mrs. Ted Krystofink and Co-chairman Mrs. Peter Conci have been working hard months ahead to assure the success of the children's section of the bazaar.

Vets Should See If Eligible For Muster Benefits

Army veterans with broken service who may have wondered if they are eligible for mustering-out benefits under both World War II and Korea legislation were assured today by Floyd D. Granger, Veterans Service Officer of San Mateo county, that they are—if their enlistment and discharge dates fall within certain periods.

Granger said a recent Army regulation clears up some confusion over just which Army veterans are eligible for bonuses under both the Mustering-Out Payment Act of 1944 and the Veterans Readjustment Act of 1952.

The new regulation stipulates that veterans who received mustering-out pay for continuous service which began prior to July 1, 1947, and ended between June 27, 1950, and July 16, 1952, are entitled to additional mustering-out pay under the Korea GI Bill for a subsequent period of service beginning on or after June 27, 1950, the service officer explained.

Until the Army issued its new regulation, Granger said, there was a question whether a veteran could receive mustering-out pay for services on or after June 27, 1950—when the Korean conflict began—if he had been paid under the World War II act for service ending between that date and July 16, 1952, when the Korea GI Bill became law.

All applicants for mustering-out pay under the new act were reminded that their notice of separation, Form DD 213, must accompany their claim for the payment.

Assistance in determining eligibility for mustering-out pay and application forms are available at the Veterans Service Office, 517 Marshall street, in Redwood City, directly in back of the courthouse.

CHECK CAR LIGHTS

Good lights are an important feature of safe driving at any time, but especially so in winter. The California State Automobile Association recommends a thorough check of your car's lighting system by a competent mechanic and adjustment of the charging rate on the generator for your security during winter's longer hours of darkness.

Mothers Club Invites All to Annual Affair

The annual Christmas bazaar of Our Lady of Perpetual Help Mothers Club will take place in the school auditorium Sunday, Dec. 7, after the eight o'clock Mass.

Everybody is invited to attend. Breakfast can be had in the cafeteria, and then the fun will begin. Santa Claus will be there for the children and the booths will be the main attraction. Mrs. Ruth Cresta, president, reports that there are lots of interesting things to buy. The sewing booth is one of the most popular attractions because lovely gifts for the family will be available. The delicatessen booth will be filled with homemade foods of every kind.

A cake and candy booth and lots of fun for the children are promised. A hope chest will be awarded some lucky person.

and with the help of Mesdames William Fullen, Kevin Carroll, George Bruening, Frank Varsatz, Ray Kelly, and John Jordan promise a good time for everyone.

Thirty-nine Will Graduate at SMJC

Thirty-nine high sophomores have already been listed as graduating at the end of this semester at San Mateo Junior college. Other names yet to be added will increase the number. This group will receive diplomas with the June graduating class at the June commencement.

Enrollment figures for the college adult center are running about 500 over the total noted for the previous year. About 5000 men and women have registered this semester and more are enrolling each week. This growth is natural in part, and in part is because of the addition of new sections both in the San Mateo-Burlingame area and in outlying communities.

The junior college football team will close its 1952 season today when Stockton college will send its team to San Mateo where the game will be played on the high school field. Stockton is leading the league with a perfect season in conference playing. The game will start shortly after two o'clock.

Dr. Ralph W. Chaney of the faculty of the University of California will lecture and show color movies on India at the college Monday evening, Nov. 24. The public is invited to the lecture at 7:30 without charge.

Homecoming, held last weekend, brought old grads back to the junior college for dinner, dances, and a football game. The students advertised their homecoming with a parade of floats through the streets of San Mateo and Burlingame. Dr. Elton Hildreth, president, in giving the principal talk at the dinner said that the college would have 3500 students by 1960, as the population throughout the whole county is increasing steadily.

CHEST GROUP WILL REVAMP RESIDENTIAL SET-UP IN DALY CITY

Announcement was made this week by Fred Bertetta, chairman of the Community Chest drive here, that a new organization would be set up to seek residential contributions in an effort to reach the goal set for Daly City.

This week's contributions, $9 for residential, and $25 for business, brought the total to $4,251.76, or 50 per cent of the quota for the Daly City-Coima area.

Daly City Policemen Injured As Patrol Car Hit Broadside

Two Daly City policemen suffered minor injuries here last week when the police car which they were driving was struck broadside by an auto driven by Frank L. Moran, 45, of San Francisco, at Alameda and Junipero Serra boulevards.

The two policemen, Arthur G. Linhares, 41, of 60 Shakespeare street, and James Poket, 27, of 32 Miriam street, an auxiliary policeman, were rushing to the scene of another accident a half-mile away when the incident occurred.

Both men were treated at Junipero Serra hospital for superficial injuries.

Moran, a bond and stock broker, said he failed to hear the siren or see the patrol car's flashing red light. He was cited by police for speeding, having no driver's license, failure to stop for an emergency vehicle and taking the right of way.

Estimated damage done to the patrol car, the newest owned by the department, was $300.

JEFFS ROUT CAPS OLPH Lions Champs

Jefferson's 20 basketball team finished second in the PAL with a 43-33 win over South San Francisco last week.

The 10s, holding a firm margin, lost out in the final minutes of play, 22-20, after Warrior Guard Don Ruitz turned on the steam, scoring 12 points in the final period. The Indian 10s had earlier held an 18-8 advantage.

In the 20 contest, Jeff Guard Darrel Chapman sparked his teammates with a 17-point effort. Forwards John Marshall and Bill Storch scored 12 and 10 points respectively.

The two games, winding up the season, saw the local 20s finish with eight wins, against two losses. Their only two setbacks were at the hands of San Mateo, league champions. The Jeffs claim undisputed second.

The Jeff 10s finished with six wins, four losses, which puts them third in final league standings.

JEFFS STILL IN SEVENTH PLACE

Jefferson added another mark in the victory column last week but the Indians still remain in seventh place, with the race for first all tied in the air, four teams being tied for first place. South San Francisco was knocked from the league leadership by their loss to Burlingame last week, second straight setback for the previously all-conquering Warriors. The Jeffs could extend their season record to five wins, two losses, and come out favorably in final standings.

PROTECTING CHROMIUM
Motorists sometimes wonder why chromium parts show rust spots. That is because the bare steel has been exposed by scratches in the chrome finish, points out the National Automobile Club.

Chromium parts, like the car body, should be protected regularly by an oil or wax film. It pays to check all plated parts for scratches or breaks of any kind.

California wineries produced 32½ million gallons of Muscatel wine in 1951.

DOWN COLMA PANTHERS 20-19 TO TAKE RECREATION LEAGUE CROWN

Roaring from behind in the last quarter the O.L.P.H. Lions defeated the Colma Panthers 20-19 to capture the Rec. Dept. football championship in the most exciting game of the season.

Jackie Bautista, the man most responsible for the victory was strangely enough one of the smallest men on the field. It was the sensational pass receiving and sparkling defensive work of the little speedster that gave the Lions a well earned championship. Jack scored two touchdowns and stopped the Panthers from scoring a very important one.

Picks Off Pass

Jack thrilled the young fans by picking off a bobbled pass that was not intended for him and racing untouched into the end zone. In the last play of the second quarter Jackie's great speed helped him stop George Rocchi from scoring just 6 inches from the goal line. All of the spectators agreed that Jackie Bautista was the most valuable man on the field last Saturday.

The Lions scored quickly on a 60 yard pass from Gary Martinelli to Jackie Bautista.

Martinelli passed to Rich Garabaldi for the conversion to put the Lions into a 7-0 lead in the first quarter. When the Panthers showed that they could do nothing, the Lions came back and scored again via a Martinelli to Bautista pass play. The same combination scored the conversion to make the score Lions 14, Panthers 0.

Panthers Revived

The Panthers suddenly came to life when a Rocchi pass hit Eddie Leveroni for a TD. The play was good for 65 yards. The conversion attempt was not good. The Lions took over and were stopped. Then just before the half ended Leveroni whipped a 40 yard pass to George Rocchi on the 5 yard line. Before Rocchi could score, little Jackie Bautista sped up and stopped him inches short of the goal and the half ended Lions 14, Panthers 6.

The Panthers began to show their strength at the opening of the 3rd quarter when George Rocchi broke away for a 45 yd. TD run. Rocchi passed to Lou Arigghi for the conversion and the score was Lions 14, Panthers, 13.

The next time the Panthers got the ball, Rocchi passed 20 yards to Roy Corner to put the Panthers in the lead 19-14. The all important conversion was missed. Both sides attempted to score in the 4th quarter but neither was successful. In the last few minutes of the game Tommy Fenn of the Lions picked off a Rocchi pass and ran it back to give the O.L.P.H. boys a 20-19 victory and the Daily City Recreation department football championship.

Standouts
Bob Nunes, Frank Cordellos, Lee Casentini, Dan Weckerele, Ronald Bell, Bill Harold and Henry Oliver and the rest of the Lions that contributed in their teams victory.

Bob Brandt, Bill Mackey, Jim Beaton, Mike Harmon, Leroy Frazola, Al Leveroni and Bill Mason all helped the Panthers to put up the finest battle of the season.

The Colma Eagles won the B league championship by defeating the O.L.P.H. Rams 8-0 in a thrilling opener.

Both teams played excellent defensive ball but the Eagles were able to put one spark of offensive over and win the championship.

The Eagles scored when Reuben Martinez trapped Bill Bricker of the Rams in his own end zone for a safety. Eagles 2, Rams 0.

Defensive Battle
From then on the game settled to a defensive battle until Paul Tapia threw a 40-yard strike to Pat Lena in the end zone. Pat made a driving catch that made everyone stand up and cheer. Final: Eagles 8, Rams 0.

Larry Caratti, Dick Jay, James Wilson, Peter Rogerson and John Miller made up the rest of the championship team.

Anthony and Joe Stagnaro, Ronnie Rose, Joe Murphy, Eddie Coleman, Billy Francis, Mike Brush and Bob Steele made up the remainder of the Rams.

Medals will be awarded to the members of the winning teams and trophies to the schools they represent.

Cub Scout Pack Is Organized By Sterling Park
A new cub scout pack, 184, has become active since the last of October under the sponsorship of the Sterling Park Improvement association.

Den 2 is holding its meetings each Tuesday, 5:30-4:30 p.m., at 518 Hillside boulevard under the direction of Den Mother Shirley Hess.

The den recently completed a fort to be displayed at the meeting of the pack this evening. The pack meets monthly at the Colma school.

Skits will also be presented by members of the den at tonight's gathering. Topic of the skits will be pilgrims and Indians. The den is also holding a nail driving contest to see which cub can drive the straightest nail.

More parents are needed to participate in organizing cub activities, according to Mrs. Hess. Those interested should contact her by phoning PL 5-4528.

Jefferson Packs Mud Down in Vicinity of Mustang Goal Line

WITH SPIRITS only slightly dampened by the rain and mud, Jeff left half Ed Gallagher takes a pitch-out in the third quarter and slices around end for 10 yards and a first down against Capuchino last week. The mud seemed to hamper the Mustangs, who scored once, but it hardly put a dent in the Larian offense, which racked up 6 points in the afternoon of play.

SIX DAY BICYCLE RACING TO BEGIN ON DECEMBER 7

Six-day bike racing comes back to San Francisco on Sunday night, December 7, at the civic auditorium. The six-day race, staged by managing director Murphy Sabatino, marks the first time that the event has been seen in San Francisco since 1939.

"Six-day bike races were very popular back in the late 30's," said Sabatino. "And our coming race will be conducted on the same high standard, and with the same type of high-calibre riders as the past races."

Sabatino added that internationally famous bike riders will be entered in the event. The six-day race will be held on a specially-constructed, highly-banked wooden track.

Tickets are now on sale at San Francisco's civic auditorium. Reservations may be made by writing the Six-Day Bike Races, San Francisco Civic Auditorium, Room 202, San Francisco, and enclosing a check. CHECK OIL AND WATER

In these days of two thousand and more mile performance on one filling of oil, it is the disposition of the average motorist to save time at the filling station by dispensing with the offer of the attendant to check the oil and water, according to the National Automobile Club. This is not a sound idea. The oil and water should be checked on every trip to the filling station, especially if the car has been driven fast.

GATORS WIND UP SEASON AGAINST FRESNO BULLDOGS

San Francisco Team Will Seek Fifth Win

San Francisco State's footballers test their jinx again this week for the last time as they travel to Fresno this Saturday night for the season closer against the FSC Bulldogs.

The Gators have won four home games and lost on every road trip. That makes a 4-4 record and the odds are that it will be 4-5 after this one.

Last Stop

Fresno State is the last stop in San Francisco State's toughest schedule of all time. The Bulldogs have lost to San Jose State and College of Pacific, but overwhelmed all of California's "middle time" opposition and also took an intersectional game against tough Utah State.

The Gators lost to College of Idaho, 33-19, in 30 degree weather last week at Caldwell, Idaho. The Coyotes struck for four quick touchdowns and spent the rest of the night holding off the rallying Gators.

San Francisco struck back behind the passing arm of QB Maury Duncan. The Gators were on Idaho's six-inch line when the game ended.

Duncan Connects

Duncan completed 13 out of 23

passes for 210 yards and two touchdowns. This brought his season total to 1501 yards on 81 completions out of 156 attempts. For the third week in a row, 160 pound Dick Nave led all ground gainers with 58 yards in 13 shots.

John O'Shea, the season's rushing leader with 655 yards in 140 shots, caught three of Duncan's long-gainer passes for a total of 135 yards against Idaho.

Coach Joe Verducci's Gators upset Fresno last year but he doesn't expect to repeat. The Bulldogs are considerably stronger than last year, while San Francisco has lost nine first stringers—on offense or defense.

Endriss Loss Hurts

The biggest blow was the ineligibility of end Al Endriss, now playing with the San Francisco 49ers. Endriss had terrific speed, and this, combined with the passing of Duncan, gave the Gators another all-the-way threat.

Ends Merrill Jacobs and George Wehner have been consistent receivers all year.

The Gators have voted senior guard Don Clare as season captain and he will lead the team against Fresno. O'Shea was picked as most valuable while guard Jess Jones was selected as most improved.

Besides Clare, Jacobs and O'Shea, seniors playing their final game against the Bulldogs will be Gene Andersen, a two year regular at offensive tackle; center Dick Amandoli, another two year regular; Dick Boyd, tough defensive end; John Fortson, a fullback who

JEFF FROSH-SOPH TEAM DOWNED, 26-7 BY PALO ALTANS

Jefferson frosh-soph footballers were humbled for the second time in as many weeks as Palo Alto high school's league-leading aggregation downed them last week, 26-7. It was the sixth straight win for the Vikings.

Jim Honeywell scored the lone Jefferson TD in the fourth quarter when he plunged over from the four-yard line after recovering a fumble.

Don Tymen skirted end for 25 yards and gave the Palo Altans their first touchdown, and Gary Nauman passed to Don Bishop for a 20-yard touchdown play.

Nauman scored the third touchdown on a one-yard quarterback sneak. Dick Callahan ran his own left end for the fourth score from 20 yards out.

has been injured most of the year, Gene Gordon, a good defensive tackle and guard George Zerkovich, a rapid blocker who leads much of the interference.

INDIAN 20s DEFEAT SSF; TAKE SECOND IN LEAGUE

Rosa, Bockwinkel, Honeywell Lead Indians to 44-6 Victory Over Mustangs

With Quarterback Ray Rosa's gifted arm leading the way, the Jefferson Indians buried the Capuchino Mustangs last week, 44 to 6. Rosa made good on 10 out of 14 passes for 141 yards, and hit for two touchdowns.

The game gave the Jeffs their third win in league play and for the season.

A Rosa pass to end Bill Butler was good for the initial score in the first period. The play spanned 41 yards.

John Geertsma made his first of two good kicks, putting the locals ahead, 7-0. Rosa connected again for 10 yards to Jim Minor in the end zone late in the fourth period.

Nick Bockwinkel scored twice on plays from the four-yard line. He topped off a 53-yard march in the second quarter with the first plunge, and hit pay dirt after a 57-yard sustained drive in the fourth period.

Jim Honeywell, the other booming Jefferson back, ran 53 yards to soccer on a pitch-out play in the third period, and Gallagher swept end from 14 yards out for another tally in the same quarter. Jefferson's other score came in the fourth period when guard Bill Pedroni snagged Bing Cerri's arm as he attempted to pass, snatched the ball from the Mustang and ran 39 yards to account for six points.

Capuchino scored its lone TD in the fourth period on a 10-yard pass from Bing Cerri to Sterling Hammack in the end zone.

Cerri personally launched the drive that set the score up. Starting on his own 35, he completed three straight passes, then gained five yards on a run for a first down on the 10-yard line. Al Renner's kick was unsuccessful.

CENTRAL CLUB STILL IN BOWL LEAGUE LEAD

Central Club took two out of three from Kirchhubs Tuesday night to remain atop the Daly City-Colma bowling league.

The league leaders would have swept all three games had not their top bowler, Bill Watson, who averages 171, rolled a measly 126. Central Club now has 20 wins, 10 losses after 10 weeks of competition.

Daly City-Colma Lions and Hilltop cab remained in a tie for second with 19 wins, 11 losses. The local Lions turned back the San Bruno Lions three straight, while Hilltop Cab took two from Vace & Fred's.

Top effort of the evening, also of the season, was turned in by Hilltop Cab's Pete Colodi, who rang up a 625 series, to become the first league bowler this year to record a 600 series. Colodi had games of 173, 221, and 231 in fashioning the record series. His 231 effort was also high individual score for the evening.

In the series department Babe De Lucca of Central Club was runner-up with 570.

High team series was won by Central Club with 2604.

Feature on next week's slate will be the meeting of first-place Central Club and second place Hilltop Cab. In event either team takes all three the standings could be altered noticeably. Daly City-Colma Lions, tied for second with the Hilltoppers, meet Paul Flowers, who are in fifth spot.

What Happened To Lake Merced Trout Unsolved Mystery

What happened to the several thousand trout which have been planted in San Francisco's Lake Merced during the past three years?

That was the unsolved mystery confronting State Fish and Game Department workers here when it was disclosed a grand total of only 32 rainbow trout were recovered following poisoning of the waters of the lake in a campaign to clean out trash or rough fish.

Following application of the poison it was reported the trout subsided very rapidly, all recoveries being made within an hour or an hour and a half after the poison hit the water. On the other hand, it required at least four hours to recover any carp.

Largest fish taken was a 14 pound carp. Heaviest trout recovered weighed 6 1/4 pounds. Thousands of sticklebacks and a tremendous number of bullheads, some of them as large as a pound, were killed. It was thought the big bullheads might easily have feasted on the small trout as rapidly as they were planted.

The lake will require at least 30 days before it is capable of sustaining fish again, and it was anticipated trout will not be planted until sometime in January, perhaps later.

Psychologist for County Schools Speaks On "Human Beginnings" at Crocker PTA

Dr. Ruth Kokjar, psychologist for the San Mateo county schools, was guest speaker at the Crocker PTA meeting held Wednesday night, November 12.

Over fifty interested parents and teachers attended the meeting to hear Dr. Kokjar speak on the subject of sex education for children. A movie was shown titled "Human Beginnings." The movie was designed to be shown to children to educate them on the subject in a healthy and natural way.

To Acquaint Parents

The Crocker PTA had the movie shown to the parents to acquaint them with the type of movie that is available for this purpose.

The general observation was that more parents should see these movies and the subject of whether or not they should be shown in the schools must be discussed by more parents at the present time. Mrs. Lyon wishes to make it clear that parents can still join the PTA at any time throughout the year. Dues are one dollar for the first person and fifty cents for the second person in the immediate family.

Winner in the recent membership contest was Mrs. Thomas Clark's class. The class won both the room party for getting the most members and the room prize for getting 100 per cent membership.

Crocker Bazaar

The Crocker bazaar, to be held December 5th, was discussed by the parents. It was pointed out that donations to the Bazaar could either be sent to school with the children or be collected by the following people—Mrs. Thomas Mullen, PL. 5-7263; Mrs. Wm. Rudometkin, PL. 5-4800; Mrs. E. Schmale, JU. 7-8579; Mrs. E. Turney, JU. 6-2579. Anyone wishing to donate cakes or cookies, please call Mrs. Hedvall at PL. 5-4853.

A committee composed of Elizabeth Kennedy, Mrs. Weadon and Mr. Ecker was appointed to look into the possibility of getting more stop signs up in the Crocker area. Hostess and Host for the evening were Mrs. Mabel Vicain and Mr. Thomas Scholten.

JAMES ORCHESTRA ON PENINSULA SOON

Harry James and his famous orchestra will make their first public appearance on the peninsula Saturday night, Dec. 6, when they play for a dance in the spacious club house at Bay Meadows race course in San Mateo.

James, who with his wife Betty Grable, is a frequent visitor at Bay Meadows during racing seasons, has been booked for the dance by William P. Kyne, manager of the turf plant.

James is coming to the bay area direct from Hollywood where he had been engaged in motion picture and television work as well as making several new Columbia recordings.

Kyne intends to sponsor a series of dances in the race course club house during the winter months and will book local orchestra music when name bands are not available.

TOMORROW LAST DAY FOR APPLICATION TO NROTC PROGRAM

The Navy has announced that tomorrow is the deadline date for receipt of applications for its college training program, the Naval Reserve Officers Training Corps.

Competitive examinations, the seventh since the program's beginning, will be held on Dec. 13, 1952, at test centers established throughout the nation, the Navy said. Only those who have submitted their applications prior to the deadline date will be allowed to take the examination.

About 2,000 students will be selected for entry into the NROTC program this year. Successful candidates will be appointed Midshipmen, USNR, and will have their tuition, books and normal fees paid by the government while working for bachelor degrees. In addition, they will receive pay at the rate of $600 a year for the four-year period and will be provided the required uniforms for use while on cruises and during drill periods.

The Navy has NROTC units at 52 universities and colleges throughout the U. S. Those selected for the program will be assigned to one of those units.

Applications may be obtained at high schools, colleges, Offices of Naval Officer Procurement, and Navy Recruiting Stations throughout the country. Completed applications must be sent to the Educational Testing Service in Princeton, N. J.

SET FOG LIGHTS CORRECTLY

Fog lights should be checked in anticipation of more frequent use under winter driving conditions, suggests the California State Automobile Association. Such lights are required by law to be kept safely below the level where they will glare into the eyes of oncoming drivers. However, in long summer drives, often over rough roads, they may have been jarred into a dangerously high angle.

Gaggero, Other Officials Attend Fair Convention

Manager William M. Wilson of the San Mateo county fair and floral fiesta, accompanied by directors A. J. Gaggero, president; Ralph C. MacArthur, chairman of the racing committee; and A. H. Sagehorn are in San Francisco attending the 30th annual convention of the Western Fairs association, a non-profit trade group devoted to making fairs serve the greatest possible number of people.

Before leaving for the three-day convention which opened Nov. 18, Fair Manager Wilson reported that the educational aspects of fairs, means of improving junior shows, reducing maintenance cost and providing high quality entertainment at fairs will be among the problems on which some 650 fair officials representing 132 fairs in six western states will exchange information for the mutual benefit of all.

Other matters on which the fairmen will cooperate include the setting of dates for next year's 77 California fairs to avoid date conflicts between those in adjacent communities, and working out policies covering off-season rental of fair facilities.

The local fair representatives will return Friday following the end of the three-day convention at the Palace Hotel, which will conclude Thursday evening with the annual banquet and ball.

Improvement Group Will Elect New Directors Soon

Election of directors for the Westlake Improvement association will take place Monday, Dec. 1, at 8 p.m. in the Jefferson high school auditorium.

George Pingry, president of the association, last week appointed the following nominating committee, who selected candidates for the five director positions: C. John Iacono, chairman; Frank Curry, Ted Bartels, Fred Brown and Lawrence McDonnell.

They named the following seven candidates for the director posts: Albert C. Desmond, 145 W. 15th avenue, incumbent; Linwood E. Frates, 248 Westbrook, incumbent; Harold W. Holman, 71 Cliffside; Howard I. Porter, S. Belford drive; Joseph Toboni, 1 Parkwood; John A. Trapani, 71 Hillside; William B. Ziegler, 26 Parkview, incumbent.

Members of the association in good standing are eligible to cast their ballots the election.

A regular meeting of the improvement group will be held the night of the election.

Pingry urged all members to attend. Refreshments will be served.

Prize Felines Will Assemble For Cat Show in Oakland

Prize cats from all parts of the nation will converge on the San Francisco Bay area November 29 and 30 to participate in the sixth annual all-breed show of The Golden Gate Cat Club at Oakland Civic auditorium.

With more than 500 entries anticipated, this year's show promises to eclipse all other western exhibitions of its kind in size.

Among the blue-bloods being groomed for the show are rare Abyssinians and Russian Blues, the Tallest Manx, Burmese, Siamese, Persian, Tabby, Tortie, Solid Color, Silver, Smoke, Domestic Short Hair and other varieties. Even the common alley cat will vie for honors in a special classification for household pets of non-pedigreed strain.

A mammoth Gold Trophy nearly two feet high will be awarded the best cat in the show. More than fifty other trophies and scores of rosettes and ribbons are included in the list of prizes.

Show hours will be from 10 a.m. to 10 p.m. in the arena of the Oakland auditorium at 12th and Fallon streets. The charge for adults will be 85c. Escorted children under 12 will be admitted free.

DALY CITY LIBRARY PLAYS HOST TO YOUNGSTERS DURING BOOK WEEK

By Lorraine De Fanti
Assistant Librarian

The Daly City public library played host to hundreds of enthusiastic young people during Book Week. Throughout the week, eager boys and girls browsed about the many new books on display. Special classroom visits were arranged as an additional Book Week feature.

Reading Habit

According to L. M. Terman, a noted authority on children's literature, the reading habit, like other educational habits, is formed during the impressionable period of life; that is during childhood and youth. All children of average intelligence may be taught to enjoy good literature. The important thing is that they should be encouraged at an early age to read good books. One of the first steps in the formation of the reading habit is to supply the child with all the good books he can use. Here is where the public library can play an important role, if parents take the time to acquaint and avail themselves of its many facilities and services.

The child who reads easily and has been taught to seek for himself the information that may be found in books has taken the surest and shortest road to knowledge.

He may learn in a few hours facts that the child who does not read may learn only after years of experience, or not at all, and he has open to him a wealth of recreation and entertainment that cannot be duplicated in any other form.

A child must be led to form good reading habits just as he is led to form right habits of eating and exercise; they are not guaranteed by inheritance or natural endowment.

While it is at school that the child learns to perfect the mechanics of reading, it is chiefly through parental influence that he learns discrimination in the choice of reading material. Parents should see to it that their children are exposed to a large variety of good literature.

In the children's room of the Daly City Public Library a child can find a large selection of fine books. Let every week be Book Week in your child's life. Don't be guilty of restricting your children to a "once a year" realization that Book Week is being observed. Come to the library often and familiarize yourselves with the juvenile as well as the adult collection. As the 1952 Book Week slogan states, READING IS FUN, let your public library help you to discover the wealth of pleasure reading can bring.

Children's Book Week Participated in by Local Youngsters

HIGHWAY PATROL SAYS MOST DRIVERS JUDGE INACCURATELY

The California Highway Patrol came to the conclusion today that most drivers can't judge distance accurately—and a lot of them are paying for it with their lives.

Of thousands of persons who have taken a depth perception test in the patrol's mobile safety unit, a high percentage showed a tendency to place an oncoming vehicle further away than it actually was.

In a highway situation, officials said, it's many of those same drivers who find out—too late—that they don't have enough time to make a pass and move back into their own lane safely.

Others go on barely "making it" because the drivers of the oncoming vehicles think enough of their own safety to slow down.

The patrol said the danger of inaccurate depth perception could be minimized if a driver is aware of his shortcoming and compensates for it.

MOTORISTS BECOME PEDESTRIANS WHEN NOT BEHIND WHEEL

"Motorists live double lives."

Henry Venturi, of the San Mateo County Traffic Safety Commission explained that statement today by saying, "Many motorists don't realize it, but just as soon as they get out from behind the wheel they become pedestrians."

"Therefore," he said, "it should be a simple matter for the motorist to put himself in the pedestrian's place and anticipate many pedestrian actions in time to avoid an accident."

Some pedestrians act as though they had the right of way and pay no attention to vehicles, he warned. Others may be "late-starters" and find themselves stranded in the street with the traffic beginning to bear down on them. Venturi pointed out that November weather and early hours of dusk and darkness combine to make it difficult for motorists to see pedestrians.

TOP RANKING records in the 1952 National 4-H awards program have brought state honors to four Golden Bear State club members. They are:

4-H Tractor Maintenance Winner

Proper tractor care has kept the wheels rolling and production up on the Tartaglia farm in Barham. For a job well done, son Gene, 18, was named California winner in the 4-H Tractor Maintenance program and will attend National 4-H Club Congress as guest of General Petroleum Corp. Gene has devoted three years to the study and practice of tractor operation and maintenance. Gene has the responsibility for all the tractor work on their ranch—one of the largest poultry ranches in the county. He was 4-H Tractor Maintenance leader last year and has helped at regional training meetings by giving demonstrations. For three years, he has been county winner and last year first alternate in state competition. The youthful farmer won the tractor driving contest at 4-H Fair.

Davis Girl Tops in Safety

Cathryn Hansen, 18, of Davis, has accomplished noteworthy results in the Farm and Home Safety program, for which she received the General Motors trip award to the National 4-H Club Congress. By means of surveys, demonstrations and other aids, she has helped to make her community more safety conscious. In and about the home she has found and eliminated 20 hazards. She repaired and braced a shaky kitchen stepladder. Repaired the cellar door, filled and leveled holes in yard and garden and removed all refuse. In repairing the back stairs, Kathryn found the foundation had rotted, so she built a new stairway. She is in charge of her local club's safety program, obtaining material and encouraging fellow members. She was chosen 1951 All-Star girl from Yolo County.

All these programs are conducted under the direction of the Co-operative Extension Service.

Wins Girls' Record Award

Tops in the 4-H Girls' Record program for California, Merna Borrer, 16, of Gerber, will compare notes with other top home-makers at Chicago. As guest of Montgomery Ward, she will join record-making girls from all parts of the country at the National 4-H Club Congress for good times, exciting experiences, and serious discussion. Projects she completed include clothing, food preservation, home improvement, meat animal and dairy achievement. Merna has made 105 garments, canned 259 quarts of fruits, jams and jellies, frozen 97 pounds of fruits, vegetables and chickens, and finished 17 articles for home improvement. These include making bed-spread and curtains, and refinishing an heirloom rocker and dressing table. She has been president of her club for three consecutive years and also holds two county offices.

State 4-H Canning Winner

Top-notch achievements in canning won state honors for Bernette Wimer, 17, of Chualar. This young homemaker has canned 203 quarts of fruit and 1,279 jars of jams and jellies, much of it grown in her own 4-H garden. Kerri Glass provided her all-expense trip to National 4-H Club Congress. She has been in club work seven years. This year she did all the family canning. She has learned to select the best kinds of fruit to use, and prefers the hot pack method. She also finds two-piece lids the most satisfactory. Raised on a Salinas Valley vegetable and dairy farm, she has had many opportunities to put into practice her 4-H work. Her mother Mrs. Glen Wimer, is her club leader. Bernette's canning project has helped the club budget, and given variety and balance to family meals.

In The Past

TEN YEARS AGO IN THE RECORD

Thursday, Nov. 19.—Faced with the tremendous war-time job of issuing rationing books to over four thousand motorists in Daly City, three grammar schools in the Jefferson district began, yesterday, to register vehicles for rationing and issue basic "A" and "D" books and windshield stickers. The basic books, "A," issued for automobiles, and "D" for motorcycles, allows 240 miles of travel per month for each vehicle.

News dispatches from Cairo, last week, revealed that Sgt. J. D. "Jack" Smith, Daly City, had been awarded the Silver Star for extraordinary bravery in the Egyptian battle area. With 81 other officers and enlisted men he was decorated, recently, by Major General Frank M. Andrews, who heads the U. S. Air Forces in the Middle East.

John J. Fahey, Sr., member of the city council and local realtor, resumed his duties at his office, 3 Wellington avenue, Friday after recovering from illness.

Fahey was confined to the hospital for several days with an arthritis ailment.

FIFTEEN YEARS AGO IN THE RECORD

Friday, Nov. 19.—Officer Benedetti, of Daly City police department, discovered two youths seated in a parked automobile in the hills above the Crocker tract, early Tuesday morning of this week.

The officer investigated and questioned the loiterers. The car was found to be registered to Mr. and Mrs. Michael Jensen, 87 Fountain street, San Francisco.

The alertness and sagacity of the Daly City officer thus resulted in recovery of the machine even before its theft had been reported to the local department.

An unknown man who was struck down by a Market street railway car near Millet's auto camp in Colma Friday evening of last week died in the Junipero Serra hospital several hours later.

The deceased was finger printed Sunday evening of this week at the W. C. Lasswell & Co. mortuary establishment in an effort to make the identification.

Fighting against heavy odds Jefferson high school lost its final game of the season, which would have given them second place honors in the Peninsula Athletic league. Bad breaks were part of the cause of the loss of this game, but the greatest drawback was the absence of Simpson, who was injured during practice last week. Throughout the season Simpson proved himself a hero with his long runs that often resulted in Jefferson scores.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO IN THE RECORD

Friday, Nov. 18.—At the meeting of the city council last Monday night, all members were present and Mayor H. H. Smith presided.

Several protests were heard from property owners in the assessed district formed for the improvement of Knowles avenue and cross streets. As these protests were pointed out by the city attorney to be of a legal nature, the council accepted the assessment as formed.

City Engineer Kneese explained that the work would cost those in the district not directly facing the pavement $6.28, instead of $6.50, as at first estimated.

Last Saturday evening the members of Company No. 4, Daly City volunteer fire department, entertained their wives and some of their friends at the annual dinner of the company, held at the Colonial cafe on Mission street.

In addition to the splendid spread there were short talks given by the fire chief, police chief, fire commissioners, and before the evening was over every one present, including the ladies, were called upon by the toastmaster, Captain Natusch, to say a few words and at the conclusion of the banquet the floor was cleared and dancing enjoyed.

Last Wednesday morning at 2:30 in alarm of fire came in from Box 12, located at Westlake and Miriam. The firemen, after getting out of their nice warm beds, upon arriving at the box from which the alarm was sent, found that someone had turned in a false alarm. The tracks of a machine could be seen on the street where someone had driven up to the box and then turned around and disappeared on Mission street.

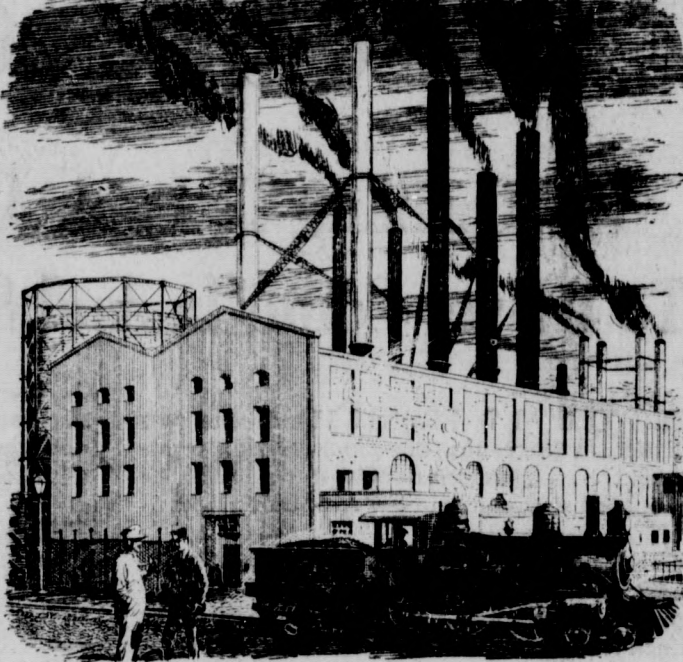

It is hoped that the person who gave the false alarm will be caught. A $25 reward is offered for anyone who catches a person turning in a false alarm.

100 YEARS EXPERIENCE

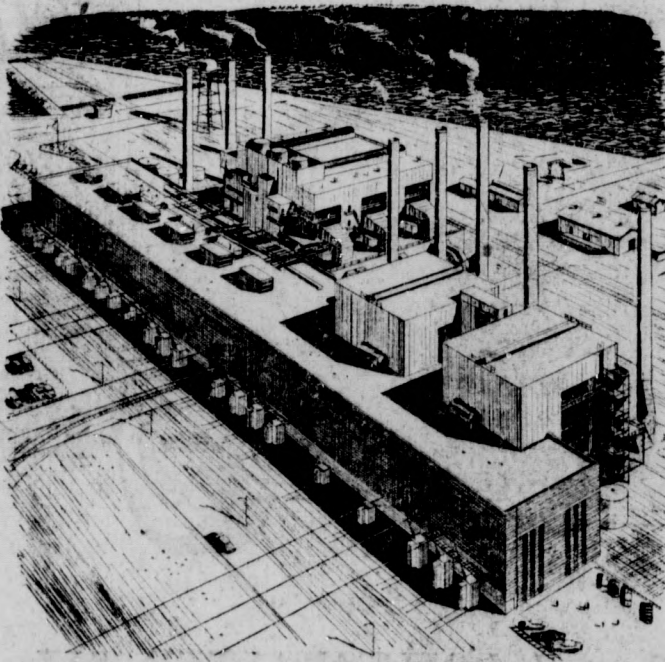

How it's helped us develop new ways to bring you more electricity

1879—San Francisco was first city in the world where anyone could buy electricity. P. G. and E. power business dates from this tiny plant.

1901—First to make electricity by burning oil instead of coal was station "A"—650 times larger than the first P. G. and E. plant.

1952—Four times more electricity per barrel of oil—compared with the 1901 plant—comes from generators in the Contra Costa plant.

Electric service for the public didn't come to the West until 27 years after P. G. and E. began as a gas company. But when it came, it was the first anywhere in the world. In the years since, scores of power plants have been built... some using water to turn generators, some steam. Each plant has been a more efficient power producer.

Still greater progress lies ahead. With the authorization of the Atomic Energy Commission, P. G. and E. is studying generation of electricity by atomic energy. One result of P. G. and E.'s progress is that good gas and electric service is truly cheap in California.

Here's a new way to glamorize sweet potatoes. They can be served piping hot, in your prettiest casserole, and are every bit as delicious as they look.

COCONUT SWEET POTATO CASSEROLE

3 medium-sized sweet potatoes
1/2 cup brown sugar, firmly packed
1/2 cup hot water
1/2 teaspoon salt
3 tablespoons melted butter
1/2 cup shredded coconut

Cook sweet potatoes until nearly tender. Peel and cut in 1/2-inch slices. Arrange in greased shallow baking pan. Combine sugar, water, salt, and butter and pour over potatoes. Bake in moderate oven (350° F.) 15 minutes, basting occasionally with the syrup. Sprinkle top with coconut and bake 10 minutes longer, or until lightly browned. Makes 4 servings. (ANS Features)

JAMES L. SNELL PTA WILL PURCHASE UNIFORMS FOR TRAFFIC PATROL BOYS

With a large audience in attendance, the James L. Snell PTA met Wednesday, Nov. 12, at the Community Center, with President Mrs. Larry Green presiding. Among the regular items of business was a recommendation from the Executive Board that the Unit purchase the uniforms for the traffic boys' patrol, which was passed by the Unit. Also recommended and passed was a vote to have the December 10th meeting held in the afternoon at 2:30 at the Garden Village school, in order to allow the kindergarten class children to give a program for Christmas. The year books were distributed by Mrs. Budd West, program chairman.

Mrs. R. N. Hilton, membership chairman, announced that the memberships now total 368, including 287 full memberships, and 81 half memberships. Mrs. De Berry's afternoon class won the membership prize with 100 per cent and her morning class took second place with a total of 89 per cent.

The attendance prize for the evening was won for the second time in a row by Mrs. Shields' afternoon class, who will again be allowed to choose the prize books for their class. (You other members and fathers better get busy and attend some meetings, as Mrs. Shields announced very firmly that her class intends to win every time. She has a good start!)

Recreation chairman Mrs. Richard Hart reported on the success of the Halloween party, and once more thanked everyone who worked so hard for their cooperation. Special thanks were given to the Broadmoor police and the auxiliary for their work in the parade especially, and to the Broadmoor merchants who donated so generously to the prizes. The judges, Mr. Mitchell, Westlake teacher, Police Chief Ray Savage, and Lt. Harry Brown, handed out thirty-two prizes in all.

The co-ordinating committee report was given by Mrs. A. E. Bolander, who revealed that a letter will be written to the local theatres, requesting that better weekend fares be provided with advance notices. She also thanked the Unit members who served on the committee when the Daly City Memorial Center was dedicated.

Appointed to be chairman of the Unit's rag drive, which will be held in the week of Nov. 17, was Mrs. Hazel Eagleton.

Special guests of the Association for the evening included Mr. and Mrs. H. Z. Weibel, and Mrs. Bostwick, co-ordinator of curricular for the district. Mr. Weibel acted as moderator for a panel group, which consisted of Mrs. Bostwick, Mrs. De Berry, teacher representative, Miss Gattuccio, school nurse, and Mr. Thomas Jenkins as a parent representative.

Refreshments appropriate to the season were served by Mrs. Raymond Dute, hospitality chairman, and her committee for the evening, which included Mesdames Patricia Roberts, Emile Fanfelle, George Nyburg, Josephine Dean, Melvin Hahn, and Ruth Flint.

Streptomycin, the first drug found to be of real value in treating tuberculosis, comes from a soil fungus found by Selman A. Waksman and his associates at the New Jersey Agricultural Experimental Station. It does not kill TB germs, but impedes their growth.

Jeff High Students Enter History Test

Robert Guditus and Dewayne Soares (Ernest Ribera's class); Joseph Bocci, Jr., Dixie Condon, Marcia Golden, Jane Holecck, Mary Sterling and Andy Vranich (William Reynolds's class).

The candidates with the top five scores at the Polytechnic quiz will enter the nationwide competition. Awards range from $5 to $2000 in defense stamps and bonds.

CHINCHILLAS AND LEONARDO

By RIDGELY CUMMINGS

Being without a car is really a blessing in disguise for me. Through my efforts to avoid public transportation, which is lamentable in Los Angeles, and still get around to where I want to go, I get involved in all sorts of weird adventures.

For instance, last week I had passes to the Leonardo Da Vinci exhibit marking the 500th anniversary of the Italian artist-engineer.

It was held at the Municipal Art Gallery. This is a ground-hugging, one-story structure on the Miracle Mile, a stretch of Wilshire boulevard so-called because of its examples of flashy, modernistic architecture. There are three bus lines running there from Hollywood and I could have made it in half an hour with ease.

Also I know any number of people without cars who would have been glad to accompany me on the bus simply for the privilege of getting in free somewhere, even an art gallery.

But no, I had to go the hard way. It took two efforts before I reached the goal.

On the first one, which I'll condense because I want to leave some room to talk about chinchillas, I arranged to take an actress who currently is at liberty while she's getting porcelain jacket crowns put on her front teeth. She said yes indeed, she was crazy to see Da Vinci's "Mona Lisa" and "Last Supper" but first she had to visit her dentist.

The dentist was over on Ventura boulevard, some twenty miles in the opposite direction from the art show but she has a convertible and it is still warm and sunny down here so I agreed to go with her to the dentist and catch the exhibit on the way back.

One of the reasons I was willing was that dentists who cater to the movie trade usually have a good selection of magazines in their waiting rooms. I am always submitting stuff to magazines but seldom bother to buy them so this seemed like a good opportunity to sample the field.

That's what I did but it was the only accomplishment of the afternoon. When the dentist finished with her, my actress friend said with her, "too woozy to drive" so I took over and headed in the direction of Calhoun Pass and God's country. On the way we passed a bar and she thought a drink was just what she needed.

I parked and we were in the bar before I remembered that on my present budget I couldn't afford to buy drinks. So I delicately explained that I was a little short and that anyway I never drank before sundown, which is about three-quarters true.

For the next two hours while my companion tried to deaden the pain in her teeth I sipped Coca Colas and rotated the ice cubes in the glass, staring morosely at them and saying "Oh yes?" and "Well, what do you know?" at appropriate intervals.

To achieve a state of insensibility she spent quite a few dollars. This she could well afford for she was paying $150 per tooth for the jackets. By the time her teeth had stopped hurting she was in no condition to appreciate Leonardo. I poured her into the car and took her home. Scratch one afternoon.

A few days later, on a Sunday, I tried again. A very attractive young lady who used to be a model is among my friends. She still is a model part time and also a television actress but she has a four-year old son to support and she supplements her income by selling home freezers.

A few months ago, when freezers were a hot selling item, this girl, whom I will call Lola, was rolling in wealth. She earned $125 per freezer and soon made a down payment on a new car, a two-door affair with a top so her son wouldn't fall out.

I prefer convertibles but with me the girl is more important than the car. Lola is one of my favorite people and I knew she was free on Sundays because that is the father's day with the boy. I phoned and she said she had been planning all week to see the exhibit. Only thing was, she had a brief business appointment to keep first. Would I come along with her?

I said sure. The business appointment turned out to be on a chinchilla farm miles and miles out in the country.

It seems that lately the bottom has fallen out of the market for freezers and Lola had stopped selling them. She still had car payments to meet however and now she was investigating chinchillas. She had heard there was a lot of money to be made selling them.

Probably there is. When we got out to the farm there were elaborate cages full of the little animals. I had never met a chinchilla face to face before. They are small, about the size of a half-grown rabbit, with pearl-gray fur tinged with blue.

They are valued at $1600 a pair. Reportedly they can't be sold for less on the retail market because of something called the N.C.B.A.

Before I left the farm I learned a lot about chinchillas because involuntarily I sat in on a staff meeting of salesmen. Lola had introduced me around without specifying my reason for being present and it was naturally assumed that I was a potential recruit to the sales force.

We all sat down together to memorize the pitch and I picked up the jargon so quickly that the sales manager wanted to sign me up right away. I temporized and promised to come back next Sunday for my book of contracts and my personalized sales brochures. Of course I won't but here is the lowdown on chinchillas, which have been known to civilization just about as long as Da Vinci.

The rat-like animals were first found in the Andes mountains by a Spanish adventurer some 500 years ago, according to the story. A load of South American jewelry was wrapped up in a chinchilla cape and sent to Spain, so the tale goes, with the result that the wrapping was more highly valued than the contents.

Came a big demand from European royalty for the fur. During the next three hundred years the little rodents were hunted and trapped almost to extinction. Then silence for 200 years until in 1923 a Los Angeles mining engineer trapped 11 of the animals and brought them to San Pedro.

From these 11 all the chinchillas in America are supposed to be descended.

A single pelt is worth $50 according to the sales pitch but there aren't enough animals available yet for pelting. Most of those raised nowadays are sold for breeding purposes. The pelting season is estimated to be due in about five years.

The gestation period of chinchillas is 111 days. Therefore theoretically a single pair can produce three litters a year. There are from one to six chinchillas in a litter. Since the animals breed when they are a year old, the possibilities of multiplication are astronomical.

Suppose one pair has three litters of only three each the first year. That makes 11 animals or a minimum of five pair going into the second year. Each of these have three each, or 25 pair at the end of the second year plus the ones that have come in between. By the third year it is 125 pair, then 625 at the four year and some three thousand by the time the pelting season starts.

Multiply 3,000 by $1,600 and everybody becomes a millionaire.

I suppose the gimmick is that the price won't hold up. The salesmen aren't bothered by that possibility. They say the National Chinchilla Breeders Association is supposed to take care of that by making all members agree not to undercut the asking figure.

There was a lot more to the afternoon and I got the impression that the chinchilla is a frail and fragile little animal, which adds one more hazard to their raising. We inspected the dust in which they take their baths, the wheels in which they get their exercise, the temperature controls, the distilled water which they drink, the breeding boxes, grading techniques and so forth.

By the time Lola had mastered the sales pitch she was almost ready to convert her garage into a fur farm instead of going out and selling them to other people.

We finally got to the art exhibit but by then it was time for Lola to pick up her offspring so we didn't stay long. The thing that impressed me most at the gallery was Da Vinci's skill as a caricaturist. I knew he was an expert on engineering, architecture, anatomy and religious painting in oils but never suspected that he had such a droll insight into human character as indicated by facial features. With the droop of an eyelid and the tilt of a nose he did wonders.

But then he is the one who painted Mona Lisa's mysterious smile, which should have prepared me for his caricatures.

I liked Leonardo but if I had a car of my own I would have missed out on porcelain jacket crowns, fur farms, cokes in the afternoon and Lola. Viva Lola.

Jeff PTA Hears Of Variety Show

Jefferson Union high school PTA met in the high school auditorium Thursday evening, Nov. 13.

Miss Eunice Seaton, the drama teacher, announced the variety show to be held tonight. She also asked if anyone having costumes of the nineties would allow the group to borrow them. Miss Betty Souza, psychiatric worker for the San Mateo elementary school district, was speaker for the evening. She explained to the audience how the child guidance clinic functioned and told of her work.

The high school PTA are giving the students of Jefferson an incentive to help get their parents to become members of the PTA. If they bring in a certain number of new members the PTA will give them a large banner with the school name on it which can be displayed at their competitive games.

The students and PTA members are cooperating in a salvage drive. The students want usable clothing for Korea and the PTA will sell the rags and unusable things to the salvage company. The drive will be held from Dec. 1 to 6 and they would like to have warm clothing and shoes in the bags. The members will help the students sort the bags.

The next meeting will be Dec. 2. It will be the Christmas program with the chorus and Christmas music.

In its early stages tuberculosis gives no warning symptoms. You may have the disease without knowing it. A chest X-ray is the best way to detect early TB. Get yours when the X-mas Seal truck visits your town.

The average cost of one case of tuberculosis is between $14,000 and $15,000. This includes cost of medical care, compensation, loss of wages, pensions, and relief payments. Buy Christmas Seals and cut down this waste.

GREEN LIGHT NOT ALWAYS SAFE

Even if a traffic signal ahead shows green, it is not safe to assume the road ahead is clear, warns the California State Automobile Association. There is always a chance some careless driver may violate the red signal showing on the cross street and rush out into your path. A green light and a clear street should be approached carefully and at a speed which will permit a safe stop in an emergency.

Tuberculosis can most easily be cured when discovered in its early stage, but it has no noticeable symptoms until it is far advanced. A chest X-ray can discover early TB. Everyone should have a chest X-ray at least once a year, even if he feels perfectly well.

December Ski School Will Be Offered in SF

Again, after a very successful dry ski course last winter, Eric Johnson and the YWCA are co-operating in offering a December ski school. Scheduled for Thursday evenings from eight to ten p.m., classes will meet in the YWCA gymnasium, 620 Sutter street.

This class is open to both men and women. Dec. 4, 11 and 18 will stress ski techniques, do's and don'ts of skiing, and ski etiquette and equipment. Eric Johnson will have such mechanical devices as the Ski-par-eil machine to aid participants. His staff of ski instructors will be on hand to give more individual instruction. Cost of this dry ski course is $2.00.

The fourth session is optional—a trip to Dodge Ridge ski area on Dec. 20 and 21. Lodging and transportation will be arranged, and additional ski instruction on the slopes featured.

Also on the ski agenda at the YWCA is a ski clinic by Eric Johnson for those "graduates" of the 1951-52 season of the YWCA ski school. Last year's course will be reviewed and a ski film shown. A preview of 1952-53 techniques will be given. Door prizes will feature ski tow tickets and ski wear for the lucky winners. The ski clinic is scheduled for Wednesday, Dec. 17, from 8 to 10 p.m.

Registration is now being taken at the 620 Sutter street YWCA for these classes. For more information call the YWCA, PRospect 5-6500.

Christmas Seals produced by the National Tuberculosis Association are collected by many philatelists. No issue of Christmas Seals has every been reprinted. Each year the plates are destroyed. Early Seals are important collector's items and have even been counterfeited.
